From the Principal's Desk

Since I have been at Bishop Hogan, the only way we had of communicating between the office and classrooms was either by physically going there or by using Skype. Recently, we received a donation from Scott and Deborah Lindley which allowed us to install an intercom/communication system throughout the school! This project has been completed, so the office now has two-way communication to all of the classrooms, the cafeteria, and the gymnasium. The classrooms also have access to outside phone lines. This system really enhances our security and communication accessibility. We are so appreciative of this generous donation from Mr. and Mrs. Lindley. Their three children graduated from Bishop Hogan!

We were excited to hear that our Homecoming float won first place in our division of the parade last Friday. We had some very creative teachers and parents who worked to put the float together!

Students have had fun this week putting together a video that says, 'thank you' to Holy Trinity School for their collection of children's books for our library. We want to thank Heather Deshayes for catching it on video and for funding its production through Mr. Mast.

May God Bless You!

Grandparents Day at Bishop Hogan Memorial School is a great way to get closer to your Grandparents. It's also a great way to know your friends and family. I think it's a good way to tell your Grandparents you really love them. The food was great thanks to Belinda! I love this school and my Grandparents! Thank you Principal Brobst for carrying on the BHMS tradition!

Grandparents Day is really fun. It's fun for me because there are a lot of people. It's also nice to that the grandparents would actually come and support their grandchild. But what I love the most is that everyone acts like they're family. Which is good. That's why I love Grandparents Day!
